

CONTRIBUTION REGULATIONS OF THE ASIA BUSINESS LAB e. V.

1. Principle

These Rules of Contribution are not part of the Statutes. They regulate the membership fee obligations of the members as well as the fees and contributions. It may only be amended by the General Assembly of the Association.

2. Resolutions

The General Assembly shall decide the amount of the fees and any apportionments. The Board of Directors shall determine the fees. The amounts set shall be levied on 1 January of the following year in which the resolution was passed. Another date may be set by resolution of the General Assembly.

3. Contribution amount and terms of payment

The annual membership fee for natural, ordinary members shall be at least € 100.00 (in words: one hundred euros), for legal entities at least € 500.00 (in words: five hundred euros).

4. Apportionments and fees

Contributions and/or payments in kind may be levied on the members. The levying of contributions and/or payments in kind must be decided by the general meeting. Separate fees apply for additional offers (events, trips, projects), which are determined by the Board in each individual case.

5. Default

In case of default, the member shall be reminded after three months of non-payment. If a member does not pay the subscription despite two reminders (in text form) or for longer than three months, the non-payment shall be deemed to be a resignation after the expiry of one month after the second reminder. The consequences of non-payment shall be pointed out in the second reminder.

6. Contribution and donation receipt

At the end of the financial year, the member shall receive a certificate of membership fees paid. After the end of a financial year, non-members and members shall receive a certificate of donations paid.
